

CAMILA RIOS

VIRTUAL ATHLETE / VIRTUAL UGC CREATOR

Football • Fitness • Lifestyle • Travel

Camila is a fictional AI character. She is never presented as a real person.

Camila and the concept

Camila Rios is a fictional 25-year-old Brazilian virtual athlete built for candid, social-first storytelling. Her world moves between night football, strength training, coffee stops, airport gates and the imperfect phone moments in between. The creative goal is not synthetic perfection: it is a coherent character whose camera roll feels familiar, expressive and useful to brands.

Creative universe

- 70% everyday smartphone imagery with natural flaws and informal framing
- 20% clean sport content focused on football and fitness
- 10% premium editorial work for launches and hero moments

Audience target

Social-first adults interested in football culture, fitness routines, active lifestyle, travel and creator-led product discovery. Initial creative is English-led and internationally oriented.

Why a virtual creator

- A stable, ownable character designed for repeatable campaign worlds
- Rapid concept iteration across locations and formats
- Clear AI disclosure and platform labelling built into the workflow
- Product integration without pretending that a fictional character is human
- A continuity gate for face, body, skin tone, hair and visual identity
